Product description

Bizerba machine oil is ideal for lubricating a variety of components. Certified with the H1 category of the NSF guidelines, this quality product can be used without concern in the Food and Pharmaceuticals Industry. Even in an extremely cold product environment, it remains constant in its consistency and effect: It increases the smooth running and functionality of your devices and systems. You avoid mechanical damage, decrease wear and benefit from smooth-running production. At the same time, this multi-purpose lubricant protects against oxidation and corrosion. Regularly used you protect your investment and increase the accessibility of the devices. Yet another highlight: The very effective formulation of the machine oil minimizes your lubricant consumption and reduces the need for maintenance.
